

How can your church help?

Pray for us. Pray for our residents and their families; pray for our staff and leadership. Your prayers strengthen and sustain us as we carry out our mission.

Share information about Presbyterian Homes of Georgia and the Caring Hands Fund. We want seniors to know that there is a place for them and we want generous, caring people to provide financial support for our residents.

Ask your members to consider making a gift during the Caring Hands Offering in May. We also appreciate budgeted support from churches that see Caring Hands as a stewardship opportunity.

How can we help your church?

We welcome churches into our communities to share in the worship life there. Our residents enjoy participating in worship with churches in the local community, especially from churches where they held membership. Youth group visits to sing, participate in mission activities with residents, or lead worship are especially meaningful. We welcome the opportunity to share resources with your churches as well. We can provide a speaker for a church program and provide resources and educational information to the congregation about issues related to aging or care giving. We enjoy hosting church groups for lunch and tours of our campuses, and we provide space for church leadership retreats.
